Introduction: Ezier Code Finding Your Path

Have you wondered who you really are? Are you living your life the way you want it or are you playacting the person that others expect you to be, to the extent that you really believe this person is who you really are? Many of us are just living our lives to fit expectations of family, friends and society. These images of the self are usually not our true selves. We may even be mirroring images of others that we see on the television, internet, movies, family, friends, and the music that we hear. If we choose to live our lives based upon the images of what others have of us or live according to the subtle images that mass media has planted into our subconsciousness, we will never ever achieve inner peace and be at one with our soul.

Let's take this one step further. What if we do not even know who we really are and feel really confused because our brains have already conditioned us to act like someone that does not reflect our true selves? If you are feeling like the people that I have just described above, you are experiencing what we call an existential crisis. You have lost sense of yourself, your purpose in this world and are doing things that are against the wishes of your heart and soul. Does this mean that we will lose our bearings forever and end up getting stuck in a rut, becoming the person that we do not want to be? Fortunately, with the neuroplasticity of our brain, we now know that we do not need to live our lives with uncertainty and a lack of direction. The veil of confusion can be lifted.

From our birth dates and names, we can tell who we were meant to be so that we can get the right programming for our brains to follow our destined life path. Life will never be the same again. The trepidation that we feel will give way to a sense of satisfaction that we have never felt before. Passions that we always felt deeply in us will be rekindled. All these are possible just by referring to our birth date and name to discover what we were meant to accomplish during our lifetimes on Earth.

During my consultation sessions, my clients will always gasp in shock and amazement, looking at me incredulously for revealing private matters of themselves that they have not told anyone of. I have tried explaining to them that I am one of the privileged few with automatic connection to the spiritual realm, where God channels their information to me. I am merely a messenger of God. This information will spill out automatically from my mouth in my altered meditative state of consciousness, sometimes even before clients have made known their reasons for coming for consultation. It is this channeling of information from a spiritual source that allows me to answer clients' questions with unerring certainty and telepathic exactitude.

Gaining wisdom in life is not about amassing huge volumes of knowledge. Neither is it about speaking in a sagely manner or about touching the lives of others with our knowledge and experience. True wisdom comes from knowing ourselves from within, who we truly are, what we were meant to be, aligning mind, heart and wisdom. Knowing oneself is true wisdom.

In this book, I will be drawing on the perspectives of quantum physics and neuroscience to show you how my formula, Ezier Code, can help you experience irreversible life transformation to get the breakthrough that you have always been yearning for. If you have purchased many self-help books to improve your productivity, prevent procrastination, boost your metabolism or accelerate weight loss, but found that you were unable to commit to the plans given and reverted to your old habits, you are not at fault. Your brain may not have been programmed appropriately for you to experience these changes. Furthermore, these characteristics may be part of your numerical DNA.

Before I share with you how to correct the numerical programming of your brain, please embrace with an open mind, the realities of human existence, so that you can put into better perspective what I am going to share with you in this book. This is one exhilarating journey that you will never regret embarking on if you stay focused to the end.

The Separation Illusion

Hence, the idea that we are separate from our physical world is an illusion. We, the human beings, only ‘embody’ separate waves of energy vibrating at varying frequencies existing within a universal source of energy called the quantum field, the origin of all materiality. In summary, we can simply think of the universe as being made up of energies, vibrations and frequencies.

A genius ahead of his times, Einstein had already hinted at our immateriality with his famous equation,  $E=mc^2$ , that energy is equivalent to mass multiplied by the speed of light squared, postulating that energy and matter are interchangeable and different forms of the same thing. He clearly understood the fundamentals of existence, that everything in the universe are living bodies of light and geometry.

Our ancestors from the Sumerian civilization also understood this fundamental theory of existence. They knew that human beings were light bodies who could interact with the universe as one. They practiced the ancient mystical art of Merkabah (also spelt as Merkaba), i.e. using light body as a vehicle of ascension, to link the human self and the higher multidimensional self with the universe (Figure 1).

Figure 1: Merkabah, our vehicle of ascension to connect to higher dimensions of the self and the universe.

If we break down the word, Merkaba, into its constituent syllables, ‘Mer’ means Light, ‘Ka’ means Spirit and ‘Ba’ means Body. Combining the syllables, Mer-Ka-Ba simply means the spirit or body surrounded by counter-rotating fields of light, also known as the ‘Aura’, which are spirals of energy that can transport the spirit or body from one dimension to another.

Chapter 3: Merkabah Numerology

In recent times, social unrest all over the world, bursting of economic bubbles such as that of cryptocurrency, spreading of falsehoods online and cyberattacks leading to private data leaks have perpetuated a sense of uncertainty. With confidence of what the future holds shaken, some of us have chosen to put our faith in metaphysical disciplines to guide our actions rather than believing in our bosses. As a result, metaphysical disciplines such as numerology, have seen a revival of sorts.

Recall that we mentioned in the previous chapter that our Merkabah is our personal energy field that will determine our destinations and interactions with others in life and help us navigate our way to success in life; while the Tree of Life is the foundation that creates all our past and ongoing experiences in all lifetimes and depicts the relationships between us and our loved ones from past and present, our personality, inborn gifts and mission in life.

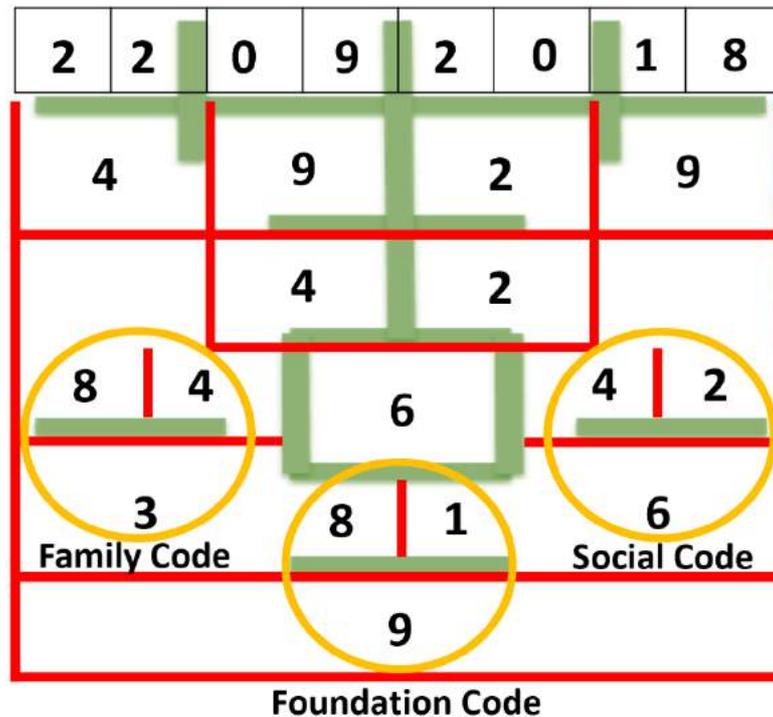

I hope to show you that Merkabah numerology can be a navigational compass to keep you on track for success and spiritual fulfilment in life. I will be drawing upon the valuable insights on the foundational existence of life from Merkabah Numerology to present to you the life changing formula that will allow you to discover your true self and live your life with greater confidence.

Origins

Merkabah Numerology originated from the Sumerian civilization dating back to more than 5000 years ago, with ancient cave art showing depictions of the Tree of Life. It is part of Jewish mysticism and has biblical origins. Up till today, the Jewish are still practicing meditation, using Merkabah as their vehicle of ascension to connect their physical selves with their multidimensional selves to the universe to explore their subconscious mind via meditation. Merkabah became a highly politicized secret art in the religious world and was not disclosed to the public. It was suppressed as religious leaders did not want too many people to master this art and wield control over the human population. Religious leaders who were privy to this knowledge internally selected those whom they wanted to pass the knowledge to and taught them in their sanctums. During one of my meditation sessions, I entered my past life, meeting my master who told me about the origins of Merkabah and handed over the secret formula over to me.

For the code on the bottom right,  $2+2$  in the yellow oval gives us 4 while  $2+9$  in the next yellow oval gives us 11 and adding 1 & 1 gives us 2, hence  $4+2$  gives us resultant 6. The ninth code that we have just identified is  $42/6$ . Codes in this position are known as the social code (refer to Figure 13), which describes our nature of interaction with the society.

Lastly, moving on to the bottom of the Merkabah chart, 2+6 in the green oval gives us 8, while 4+6 in the next green oval gives us 10, adding 1 & 0, the digits making up 10, gives us 1, hence adding 8+1 gives us 9. The tenth code that we have just identified is 81/9. Codes in this position are known as the foundation code (refer to Figure 13), which describes the basis of our existence.

What I have just explained above is the formula for plotting the 10 number codes in the Merkabah chart. Take some time to review the formula. You can practice the formula by plotting the Merkabah Chart for yourself, your friends and families.

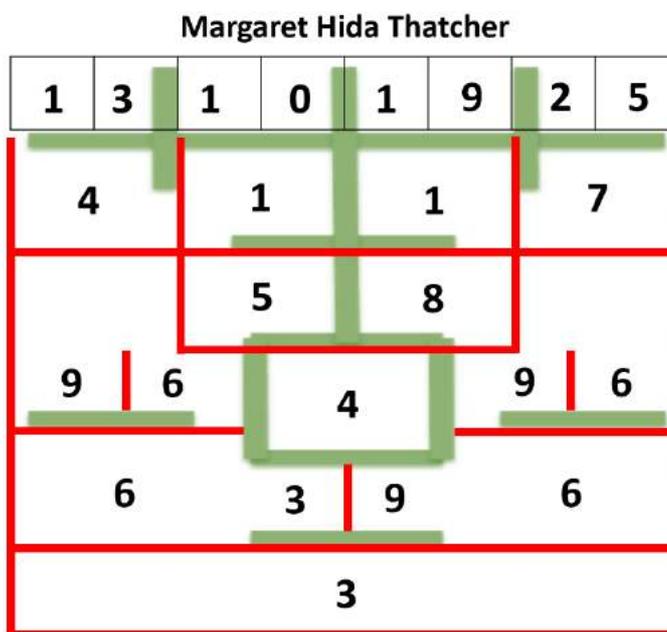

So, what do these codes mean and how do they work in shaping our life? The detailed meanings of the family code, social code and foundation code are beyond the scope of this book and will be covered in my next book. Stay tuned for the meanings of the rest of the number codes in your Merkabah chart. I am sure that you will be fascinated by the meanings of these codes. It is time to start your journey of self-discovery that can lead you on a path of irreversible transformation. This is my promise to you.

Queen Elizabeth of United Kingdom, former secretary of state of The United States, Hilary Clinton, and former prime minister of UK, Margaret Thatcher, all wield considerable power as royalty and high-ranking political office holders. Guess what all three have in common? They have Queen energy codes! Figures 14, 15 and 16 show the Merkabah of the three women. Can you detect the queen energy codes in their Merkabah charts? The codes are 26/8 and 96/6.

Let's change track and look at the Merkabah charts of Amazon founder, Jeff Bezos, and Microsoft founder, Bill Gates, the richest men in the world in Figure 17 and 18. Can you detect the wealth codes in their charts?

Chapter 4: Mind Heart Wisdom Matrix

The Mind Heart Wisdom Matrix, as shown in Figure 20, is derived from our Merkabah, enabling us to determine our personality, career aspirations, wealth mindset and health mentality.

Mind

Contrary to popular belief, as mentioned in the previous chapter, the mind and the brain are not the same thing. Our brain is the central information processing unit of our physical bodies and emotions experienced by us while the mind contains permanent records of our memories and emotional energies experienced throughout all incarnations. Our minds define who we are.

Heart

Our heart has a very complex nervous system connecting it to our brain. Scientists have noticed that the heart sends a lot more information to the brain than it receives which means that there is an important neurological conversation taking place between the heart and the brain. Hence, they have dubbed it the 'brain in the heart'.

Wisdom

Wisdom is an inner understanding that often contradicts intellectual knowledge. We recognize wisdom when we acquire it. We will feel that we have experienced a moment of epiphany, as if something clicks in our minds, allowing us to see the meaning behind a series of events that took place in our lives. Although wisdom is generally acquired with age and experience, you do not need to be old to be wise.

Chapter 5: Internal Three-Dimensional Block (Fangwei)

Is our Subconscious Mind Part of our Mind?

Is our subconscious mind part of our mind? What was once a conundrum has been solved by neuroscientists and debunked. We now know that our subconscious mind is simply brain activity, the phenomenon of neurons in our brain firing automatically, communicating with one another. However, the label that has been ascribed to it is oxymoronic. How can we call the subconscious mind the subconscious mind when it is not even a part of the mind?

Our 'subconscious mind' completes the electrical, chemical and physical restructuring of the brain time and time again without our mind's knowledge that these changes have already occurred. Hence, we should not be associating it to our mind at all. However, what we do know is that this 'subconscious mind' of ours is actually brain activity and it has significant impact on the enrichment of our minds and spiritual wellness when the right programs are in place.

The Power of Your 'Subconscious Mind'

The autonomous nature of our subconscious mind is what makes it incredibly powerful, considering how it makes decisions for us covertly without our knowledge. We can count ourselves lucky if we already have the right programs in place and our subconscious minds have formulated for us wise decisions and positive 'go-to-responses' for events that have not occurred in our lives, but not so if the programs contribute to flawed decision making.

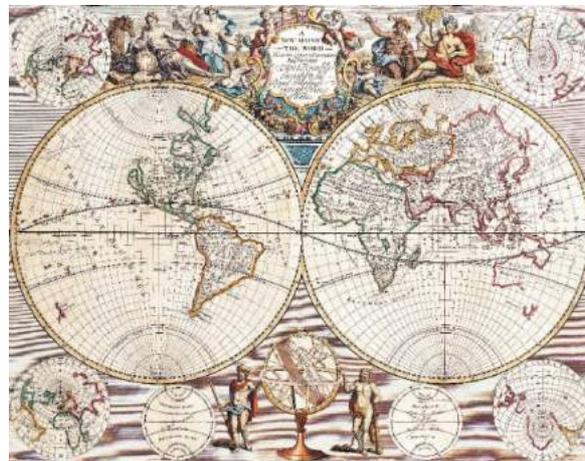

Being aware of this phenomenon in your brain allows you to consciously overwrite these automatic responses, to erase previously stored programs in your brain and reprogram it with new and more beneficial numerical programs, with life path number (Kodiko) and matching energy balance name being at the core of this numerical programming. Engaging suitable numerical programs for your brain allow you to minimize as far as possible, the occurrences of negative programs calling the shots and making decisions for you randomly and submitting them seemingly as natural responses to your conscious mind for approval.

Fangwei, as shown in Figure 21, is a three-dimensional block-like spatial grid configuration inside our brain that synchronizes with the longitudes and latitudes of earth which enables human beings to map their surrounding area. The geographic coordinate system has origins dating back to three centuries Before Christ (Figure 22). Over thousands of years, humans have already gotten used to perceiving their space in this manner, biologically, akin to our biological clock which wakes us up at fixed time periods every morning. The unconscious signals and messages that we receive in our living spaces differ for each differently numbered sector of the block-like spatial grid. These varying signals and messages significantly impact the programming of our brain, leading either to success or failure.

Contrary to popular belief, it is our personal Fangwei, or our Internal three-dimensional block that is inbuilt in our brain, instead of Fengshui, that should be synced in harmony with the space within our house. Each family member of the house should have their individual Fangwei assessed against the house that they are residing in (Figure 23). There is no house in the world that is a one size fits all for all family members as each one of us are unique individuals with our unique Tree of Life.

Fangwei, Sleep and Subconscious Mind Work Together To Enhance Your Programming

Internal three-dimensional block (Fangwei) readings are based on the neuronal activity of the right brain, otherwise known as our subconscious mind, as mentioned in the previous section. When we start drifting off to sleep, during the transition period between light and deep sleep, theta brain waves are produced, enabling us to enter the realm of subconsciousness which enhances our creativity, intuition and enables profound emotional connection with ourselves and others. This is also the time when the electrical, chemical and physical restructuring of the brain take place, when new connections between neural pathways are formed from the heightened state of creativity, intuition and oneness with the self and others that we feel during this stage of sleep.

Theta brain waves are also present in Rapid Eye Movement (REM) sleep stage when we dream, occurring for progressively longer durations throughout the night. We typically experience this stage of sleep four to five times throughout the night. To leverage on the power of our subconscious mind as described above, it is imperative for us to have enough sleep so that we can go through the sleep stages with theta wave production.

If we sleep at the correct number sectors in accordance to our Fangwei, the energetic vibrational frequencies from these numbers (artist impression in Figure 24) will provide a further boost to the electrochemical transformation of our brain by fostering positive connections between neural pathways, thus programming our brain for success. If we sleep at the wrong number sectors however, negative connections between neural pathways will fester, leading to negative programming in our brains and set us up for failure.

Numerical Values of Names

Figure 27 shows the table of corresponding numbers to each alphabet. The letters A, B, C, D, E, F, G, H and I correspond to the numbers 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8 and 9 respectively in sequence. This applies to the next batch of nine letters in sequence and the last eight letters in sequence. Hence, letters J, K, L, M, N, O, P, Q and R correspond to 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8 and 9. Finally, S, T, U, V, W, X, Y and Z correspond to 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7 and 8.

1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9
A	B	C	D	E	F	G	H	I
J	K	L	M	N	O	P	Q	R
S	T	U	V	W	X	Y	Z

To calculate the total numerical value of your name, write down your alphabetic name on a piece of paper, write the matching numerical value of each alphabet below the respective alphabets, find the sum of the numbers and simplify it into a single digit to see if it matches your life path number, also known as the Kodiko. Refer to Figure 28 for the numerical value of name calculation for ‘Albert Einstein’. Totaling up the numerical values for all letters in the name 'Albert Einstein', you will receive the total of 63. Adding up 6 and 3 will give the single digit 9. Figure 29 shows that Einstein's Merkabah chart has the Kodiko 6 which matches with the single digit 9 as recommended in the matching name 3, 6, 9 (water) in the list below for Kodiko 6.

The list below shows the matching Kodiko and simplified total of names. Have fun calculating and matching!

Chapter 8: Mobile Phone Numbers As Your Outdoor Numerical Programming

In the past few chapters, I have introduced you to your numerical DNA (i.e. Merkabah arising from birth date) and showed you how you can maximize your inborn abilities by following a lifepath (i.e. choosing an appropriate energy balance name) that resonates with your numerical DNA. To allow your brain to be programmed for success, I have emphasized the importance of spending enough time sleeping in the right space (internal three-dimensional block or Fangwei) in your house to recharge yourself, so that activities you partake in everyday can be building blocks to your future success.

What I have revealed so far is a comprehensive formula to point you towards your individualized path to success and reprogram your brain for this purpose. When you spend a significant amount of time cycling through the various sleep stages in the correct number sector throughout the night, your subconscious mind works its magic to empower you for success. What happens then when you leave that favored numbered sector in your house? How do you ensure that your brain is still wired for success? The last piece of the puzzle that I am going to share with you now is something very familiar and intimate to all human beings. The frequencies received and transmitted by this object will ensure that you stay focused on your mission of success as you go about participating in daily life activities.

The rise of the mobile smartphone since the turn of the current decade has been staggering. Due to the increasing convenience, affordability and utility of smartphones, more than a billion units are being sold annually. Mobile phones are achieving an unprecedented degree of market penetration in both developed and developing countries. The momentum of mobile phone global sales shows no signs of stalling, with consumers readily forking out hundreds of dollars to purchase phones fitting their whims and fancies. Nowadays, human beings are so reliant on their mobile smartphones to the extent that insecurity and sense of loss sets in when we do not have our phones with us. It is the sheer amount of time that we spend in possession of our phones and proximity of the phones to us that make it a potent and effective tool for transmitting numerical programs to wire our brains for success.

So how do our mobile phones contribute to the programming of our brains?

Chapter 9: Ezier Code: Your Holistic Formula Towards Irreversible Life Transformation

If you have been using the same name since birth, same mobile phone number since you received your first smartphone, slept in the same room since birth or the last time you shifted house, you would have been providing the same numerical programming for your brain for the last five, ten or twenty years. Your individual numerical program, made up of different combinations of 0 to 9, is an assemblage of various character attributes, aptitudes and attitudes that program your brain, allowing your brain to experience the actions that it was programmed to execute. All these programs, be it positive or negative or both, have been repeated numerous times and progressively strengthened in your brain to form neural activity feedback loops that fix your reactive behavior for various situations encountered. You react as if that behavior is part of who you are and the only way you know how to react. This is a result of programs being deeply entrenched in your brain, such that it becomes the first call of action summoned by the neural activity feedback loops in your brain.

This is the reason why successful people continue to achieve spectacular results while those struggling in life inexorably slide into obscurity, finding that they have wasted their lives when they look back and reflect. Many of them may not even have this insight. Successful people have the perfect numerical program in place to program their brains to attract success while average people have ill-fitting programs that set them up for setbacks and failure repeatedly. The correct numerical programming for your brain will set you up for a lifetime of success and is the difference between success and failure. An inappropriate one will make you unhappy and see you fade away into oblivion.

Time and Success

We have 24 hours a day, 8760 hours a year and 700,800 hours for an 80-year-old lifespan. There is a Chinese adage that states that a minute on stage requires ten years of hard graft and grind. This ten-year reference point is a grand total of 87,600 hours of targeted effort that could be channeled into achieving that minute of well acclaimed performance on the stage of life, for you to realize your own value.

Set Aside Time For Your Transformation

What you were in the past does not matter as much as who you aspire to be in future. Make the change now. If you have been busy helping other people with their problems over the years, now it is time to declare a timeout to focus on your personal growth and development. Carve out this time for yourself to transform into a better person so that you can be better equipped to care for your loved ones. You deserve it. They deserve it.

Here is a list of the 4-step formula for irreversible transformation to be put into action:

Step 1

Use your date of birth to complete the Merkabah Plotting Worksheet and Special Codes Categorizing Worksheet to ascertain your lifepath (i.e. discover your true personality, suitable career pathways, wealth accumulation potential and areas of concern for health).

Step 2

Calculate the total numerical value of your name and simplify it into a single digit. Check if it matches with your life path number, i.e. Kodiko. If you are unsure, get a reputable name numerologist to help you ascertain if there is a match. Make necessary adjustments to the letters of your name to achieve an energy balance name if needed, with the advice from this numerologist.

Step 3

Get a reputable numerologist to assess your internal three-dimensional block, Fangwei, to determine the number sector that you are sleeping in. If you are sleeping in sectors 1 or 7, ensure that you make the switch to other number sectors, preferably sectors 8 and 9.

Step 4

Using the rules of mobile phone numbers shared above, ensure that your phone number has a balance of active and passive numbers

If you are unable to access a local Merkabah numerologist that is skilled enough to assess your name and Fangwei (Steps 2 and 3), you should still go ahead to complete your Merkabah Plotting Worksheet and Special Codes Categorizing Worksheet to ascertain your lifepath and to upgrade your mobile phone number with stronger numerical programming if needed (Steps 1 and 4). Understanding your destined life path and equipping yourself with a better mobile phone number may not give you irreversible transformation, but it can assist you in directing your efforts to the right direction and help you attract good opportunities, powerful enough to inspire confidence in you. Doing so will let you take significant steps towards transforming your life for the better.

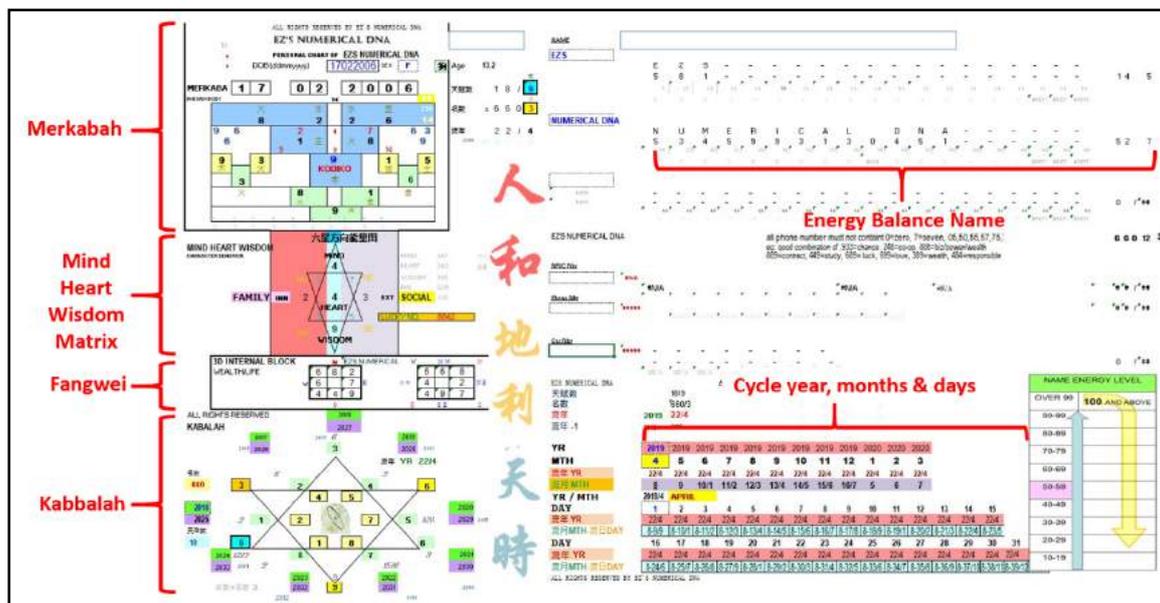

I do personally conduct retreats, which I call the 'Ezier Code Retreat for Irreversible Transformation'. Those who sign up for my retreats are usually looking for a quick and effective solution to supercharge their success in life. Many of such clients are usually at the turning points in their lives and are unsure of the next step that they should take. Many of them have worked hard to transform themselves but end up frustrated and stressed out from life and have suffered mentally and physically.

If you choose to sign up for my retreats which are held in Singapore, these are the list of things that we will do during the retreat:

Day 1

1. Decode your Ezier Code Chart (Figure 30) in my office, explaining to you your true personality, suitable career pathways, wealth accumulation potential and areas of concern for health.
2. Relive key events in your past and provide guided advice on how you can take advantage of your abilities to complete your projects and events within stipulated timeframes within the next few months and years to maximize your chances for success.
3. Analyse your name to determine if your current name balances with the energy of your Merkabah, advising you on the necessary changes if any.
4. Assess your internal three-dimensional block, Fangwei, with your house floorplan, to determine the number sector that you are currently sleeping in, advising you accordingly if you need to change your sleeping position or furniture arrangement to ensure that you can sleep in your best number sector.
5. Discuss your life aspirations with you and check if your phone number can help you achieve your goals in life, assisting you in choosing new numbers from your local telco, deconstructing the meaning of each phone number with you and recommending the best choice option to you, if the strength of the numerical program of your phone number is deemed to be lacking.

Conclusion: Ezier Code Controls Your Destiny

Law of attraction involves the focus on positive thoughts to manifest what we deeply desire. However, Ezier Code allows us to know what has been bestowed on us by God from birth, giving us a better sense of what to work towards and manifest in life. The 4-step formula that I have shared above can facilitate a clear understanding on our mission in life and what we need to do to be able to pluck and taste the sweetness of these fruits from our Trees of Life. Imagine the sense of peace that will course through your veins if you could be in harmony with your true self and the confidence that you will feel if you could focus your positive mental energies working towards your dreams that you were predestined to achieve in future.
